DEVEREAUX MARTIN
Rejoins Estey Electronics

Electronics

Firm Names

New Manager

Devereaux Martin, prominent electronics engineer, rejoined Estey Electronics, Inc., to become general operations manager of the firm which manufactures electronic organs, guitars and amplifiers, it was announced here this week by Stanley Green, president. Mr. Martin will direct all engineering, manufacturing and purchasing activities at Estey's plant here.

Oldest and formerly the largest organ manufacturer in the United States, Estey recently announced plans to apply its electronics research, development and manufacturing ability to component production for "space age" electronic fields. Mr. Martin will head this program.

VICE-PRESIDENT in charge of Estey's electronics and engineering when the firm was located in Brattleboro, Vt., Mr. Martin has most recently been project manager, Hughes Aircraft Co., Communications Division, in Los Angeles, where he was responsible for the high frequency communications system to be used on the F-108 and B-70 airplanes. He has also been executive vice-president and chief engineer, Viking Instruments, Inc., East Haddam, Conn.; chief engineer, Radio Receptor Co., Inc., Brooklyn, N.Y., and the Wilcox-Gay Corp., Charlotte, Mich.

Mr. Martin is vice chairman of the Los Angeles chapter of the Institute of Radio Engineers, Professional Group, Engineering Management; a senior member of IRE and the American Institute of Electrical Engineers; and a member of the American Ordnance Association and the Radio Club of America.

A NATIVE of Malden, Mass., Mr. Martin attended Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He now lives at 160 Vista Del Parque.
